You fully understand that Ayurveda System of Medicine based health and healing practice uses many diagnostic and treatment methods that are known as Alternative, Holistic or Complementary System of Medicine. Some of the characteristic qualities of Ayurveda practice include the following:

- 1 - Health Rejuvenation is created through a partnership between ‘you as Person’ and the ‘Ayurveda Doctor’. The values of trust and mutual respect, understanding, caring, and fairness are the cornerstones of such a partnership, and in this manner, these values potentiate the impact of the ‘Ayurveda Doctor- you as Person’, interactive professional relationship on the healing process.
- 2 - Health Rejuvenation focuses on enhancing four dimensions of health – the physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual, rather than focusing on the physical body alone. A person’s mode of lifestyle including his or her diet, behavioural and exercise patterns, sleep habits, level and amount of stress and interpersonal relationships, are believed to be directly related to the development and maintenance of health. Ayurveda evaluates these factors and seeks to help persons to give up negative lifestyle patterns and establish more positive ones regardless of age, sex or type of medical problem.
- 3 - The Holistic prescription/s is natural to the body and mind with a primary focus on health production rather than on disease treatment. These include Ayurveda Herbs, Ayurvedic oils potentiated with herbs. Your Holistic prescriptions and advises may also include Ayurvedic Detoxifying Massages, Panchakarma therapy, Marma therapy, Chakra Balancing techniques, Kundalini Jagrana, Pranayama, Yoga, Meditations, Beeja Mantras, Japa, Yajna ceremony, Yantra etc, as prescribed for Holistic healing.
- 4 - You also understand that no warranty or guarantee has been made to you as to result of care. You also realize that just as there may be risks and hazards in continuing your present condition without conventional medical treatment, there are also risks and hazards related to the performance of the Ayurvedic, Alternative, Integrative and Complementary remedy or remedies and procedure(s) planned for you.
- 5 - You have been given an opportunity to ask questions about your condition before you book a session with Amrita Ayurveda. And you have also being given an opportunity to be precisely clear about conventional treatment, integrative and complementary treatment, alternative forms of treatment, risks of treatment, risks of non treatment, procedures to be used, and the risks and hazards involved, and you agree that you have sufficient information to give this informed consent.
